“Sad But True Podcast”

1.SOUND: Joyful, Feel Good, Upbeat Good Day (inst)

2.HOST # 1: Hey, there lovely listeners! Welcome to the first episode of “The sad, but true podcast.” I’m Pinky [Name of HOST # 1], and I’m loved to be joined by my amazing co-hosts Mahmud [Name of HOST #2] and Shoumik [Name of HOST #3]. Today we will dive in the ocean. Oh no, we will dive into the ocean of life.

3.HOST # 2: Absolutely, Pinky! Today we will tell you about all the exciting experiences of our childhood and adolescence. Stay with us if you are young at heart or want to go back to your childhood. So, let’s jump in and explore the adventure together!

4.HOST #3: That’s right, Mahmudul! No matter where you are on this path, we’re here to share our experiences, insights, and memories to help you make the most of this exciting time..

5.HOST #1: Yeah. That’s an interesting thing.

6.HOST #2: Definitely. I just remembered one of my interesting memories.

7. HOST # 1: Please share your memories. We and our listers are really excited to listen.

8.HOST #2: Yeah. Why not? Actually, I was a little bit of a naughty child. I have had a lot of experiences because of this. Some of these experiences should never be forgotten. When I was in primary school, this incident happened. Our school was located in a far-off village. In the monsoon, we had to go by boat to reach school. So, one rainy day, I was going to school by boat. I didn’t know how to swim then; maybe in class 2/3! I arrived at the boat and started enjoying myself in the water with my hands. Suddenly, I fell into the water. After that, someone from my school and the oarsman who were on the boat pulled me out of the water. I was lucky to have a bag. The bag worked as a life jacket for me. Haha...

9. HOST #1: Haha. Haha. Listen Listen, I also have such a memory of going to the campus. When I went to college on my first day, After the class when I got hungry, I went to the canteen and I ordered a lot of food and when I went to pay the bill, I found that there was no money in my wallet because I had brought another wallet. Due to mistakes. Since I was new and didn’t have any friends, I was very shy and had to call my house to get money.

10. HOST # 2: Haha. Don’t you have any such memories, Shoumik?

11.HOST # 3: My memory is not like this, but I have a memory of the rainy season. When I lived in Khulna, during the rainy season, there were two ponds in front of our school that would fill with water. Where the lotus blossomed. I used to go down there every day after school and come home with lotus flowers. It became a matter of meaning that I had to go down in the water and fetch the lotus.

12. HOST # 1: Hmm, there are many stories of childhood; if you keep telling them, they will not end. Now let's go back to college life. Did Shoumik fall in love in your college life?

13. HOST # 3: Yes, there is. I had just entered college life then. There was a very beautiful girl in our college. All boys will fall in love. Although everyone wanted to make love, the girl would not talk to anyone except me. That's how college life ends. I moved to the university and separated. Who knows where she is now? But I never said I loved her. This regret will last forever maybe something would have happened if I told her I loved her.

14. HOST # 1: Aha let's move on. Do you have something like this, Mahmudul?

15. HOST # 2: Yes, it's a bit alike. In college, I became best friends with a girl. I got to know her on Friendship Day. On that date, she gave me chocolate and wished me a happy friendship day. She and I have become friends since then. She encouraged me throughout my life and helped me with my studies. We started to fall in love. Through that person, I had my first and last relationship. But right now, we're not in a relationship. I don't know where she is now! However, my love and respect for her haven't changed at all.

16. HOST # 3: Aww Mahmudul, don't be sad. Now what about you, Pinky?

17. HOST # 1: I have always been very behind in love but every time I thought I would love but couldn't I was afraid of home but still I had a best friend with whom I had a great time from school to college now he is studying in Canada and I am in Dhaka but we have a loving friendship as before.

18. HOST # 2: What a sweet bond. Really there are many kinds of memories in our lives that we will never forget. So that wraps up another enlightening episode of "The Sad but True Podcast!" We hope you're feeling empowered and inspired to embrace this phase of life with enthusiasm and purpose.

19. HOST # 3: Remember, this journey is yours to shape. Embrace the challenges, celebrate the victories, and continue to learn and evolve.

20. HOST # 1: Stay tuned for more episodes where we explore. we will discuss many more good times.. Until next time, keep exploring, keep learning, and keep living.

21. Outro Music: Joyful, Feel Good, Upbeat - Good Day (inst).

Target Audience: Our target audience consists of young people from all Bangladeshi schools, colleges, and universities. We will share memories from our past so they can experience them for themselves. And perhaps, as a consequence, we will be able to attract our podcast's target audience.

Background Research: There are different types of podcasts. But we did group podcasts.

According to recent data published in the Daily Star on June 23, 2023, podcast listenership has skyrocketed, with over 155 million people listening in on a regular basis in the United States alone. Furthermore, nations such as the United Kingdom, Australia, and India have seen a significant increase in podcast popularity, with millions of devoted listeners interacting with a wide range of themes and storylines. There will be around 464.7 million podcast listeners worldwide by 2023. This figure is expected to rise to 504.9 million by 2024, opening up a wide range of options for local content makers. Podcasting is rapidly gaining traction in Bangladesh, providing a unique forum for local voices and tales. It's safe to say that our country is now ready to dip its toes into the audio landscape.
